

Advance's proprietary AdWear coating is key to creating the industry's toughest shot sleeves. AdWear gives parts 72 RC hardness and corrosion resistance, yet, unlike nitriding, it has a more flexible surface. The AdWear process ensures endurance for all our shot sleeves, and customers report that AdWear has doubled the lives of their parts. This process works equally well on reconditioned shot sleeves.